Global Interdependence Center

Energy Interdependence in the Western Hemisphere

on November 5, 2015

at the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia

100 N. 6th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19106

A discussion of:

- midstream energy companies, infrastructures and assets;
- new energy trade patterns, pricing, opportunities and risks;
- the roles of differing modes of energy transportation in Western Hemispheric energy trade patterns; and
- the Southeast Pennsylvania Tri-State Region as an East Coast U.S. Energy Hub.

Register now at http://bit.ly/PHL115

In Partnership With

BLANK ROME LLP
COUNSELORS AT LAW

APEX

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
A.J. Drexel
Institute for Energy and the Environment

PECO
An Exelon Company

ACUA
Atlantic County Utilities Authority

MARITIME EXCHANGE
for the Delaware River and Bay
Leading the Way to Port Progress

ECONSULT SOLUTIONS
economics | policy | strategy

Canada